Saks & Company

Broadway, 33d to 34th Street

The Second Series of Special Sales.

We have elected to punctuate the regular conduct of our business by Special Sales of some importance. Why? To compel your recognition of the Saks standard of merchandise—to make you conscious of the fact that even though the things we have to offer are of a higher grade than those of most of our contemporaries, our prices are extremely low—yes, extremely.

The Annual May Sale of

Muslin Undergarments for Women

At About One-Third Less Than Regular Price.

Since it was organized for the entire month, it would have been unfair and false to the purpose and principle of the sale to exhaust its resources at its advent. For the week beginning on Monday, we have reserved the second series of garments. Some are replicas of those offered last week, others are distinctly new—all are of the same high standard, no matter how low the price may be.

THIRD WIFE FREE OF HIM.

Mr. Hardy-Volter-Hamilton Perfectly Free To Take Number 4.
Supreme Court Justice Bischoff annulled yesterday the marriage of Lois Estelle Jones Hardy to Frank Hardy, whom she married at Cambridge, N. Y., in 1900. She was 30 then and he 28, and she says that he represented himself to her to be Francois Volter.

a bachelor, of French descent. She learned in September last that he had been married twice before, first, in 1892, to Rebecca Villmont at St. Paul, Minn., and again, in 1897, to Margaret Nell in New Orleans, where he posed as Lawrence Hamilton. Both women divorced him. Miss Jones, on discovering these facts, decided that she did not care to be the third wife of a man who had told her that he had never been married before.

STARTS FOR ACTORS' FUND HOME.

Mme. Janauschek to Spend the Remainder of Her Days in Staten Island.
SARATOGA, May 7.—Mme. Francessa Janauschek, the celebrated actress, who is 74 years old, and by reason of paralysis has been in a comparatively feeble condition for over two years, bade farewell to her friends here to-day. She left for the Actors' Fund Home at West New Brighton, Staten Island, where she will in all probability remain during the remainder of her life.

Mme. Janauschek accepts the congenial hospitality of the home, which was recently extended to her in a letter from A. M. Palmer, the chairman of the executive board of that institution, who assured her of a most hearty welcome. She did not think of leaving here until June, but the sudden warm weather caused her to change her departure to this date. She hopes the sea air will prove beneficial to her.

While she was anxious to get away, she was loath to part with the family of her attending physician, Dr. James E. Kelley, who have ministered to the venerable actress during the twelve months she has been a member of the Kelley household. Mme. Janauschek was accompanied by her companion, Mrs. Lillian Roach. She first came here for her health four years ago.

Fakirs' Harvest Day.

Yesterday was the fakirs' annual, which comes with the police parade. The fakirs look upon such an occasion as yesterday's as a day of good luck.

As early as 7 o'clock yesterday morning they were in evidence. The suspended vendors and the necktie men took chances and instead of doing business on Fulton street, came up to Park row. The man who sells the trick lung testers and acts as a capper for his own game, didn't move from his place all day, and did a thriving business.
